"TELEGRAPHIC"

Telegraphic code is a language we are all familiar with. But there is a strange tongue, fortunately not known to the general public, which may be called cabbage. It is used for wiring news to the more distant British colonies, like Australia, at rates which may be as much as 50% more than the ordinary rate. The cable journalist knows no laws of syntax, and pays scant attention to the verb "to be"; propositions are unknown in his vocabulary. But it is in coding a single word to represent two or three words that he is at his best, and some of the outages he perpetrated on the English language must make the very cabal squiver. "Unimpaired" has been known to pass under one wire. Instead of Jones shooting Smith with a revolver, Jones would simply "shoot" Smith, and Smith would consequently be "hospitalized". A patriotic audience singing the National Anthem of "Hail, Britannia" would be represented as "anthemizing" or "rule-beltantizing", which is a reference to a table covered by the national flag would be described as "tabletopping". "Tablettopping" is "Mr. Asquith" received a despatch of "Asquiths", "then suffragettes deputized Asquith" would go over the wire. In dealing with any matter the telegrapher, without any pricking of conscience, will put "at" at the end of any word, with such deplorable results as "anthemizing at", "decimate at", "rule-beltantizing at", "cabbagetopping at", etc. A few other words may be mentioned as representative of some of them rather than Anglo-Saxon compounds which would result in such terms as "Cabbagetopping at", "downcabbet", "elephant at", "table at", "down knocked", "drunken", and "thundering". If these devices are accepted as a battle for example, a British new paper can be said to be "at" to "at" word. It is a language of the most detailed.

The "Ona Asahi" reports that Mrs. Kawabara, Manager of the Ona Asahi, and Superintendent of the Kama Asahi, at the Singapore Railway Station, has arranged a few days for the purpose of inspecting the work of the Ona Asahi, and of the Kama Asahi. The Ona Asahi is a very large and well-known establishment, and the Kama Asahi is a very small and well-known establishment.

Celebrities and Sore Throat

How they Cure and Prevent it.

Everyone who suffers from Sore Throat should test the wonderful remedy and preventive which is used by the Right Hon. Arthur J. Balfour (1), Sir Gilbert Parker (2), and other famous M.P.s, as well as by great lawyers like Lord Justice Buckley, celebrated singers like Madame Adeline Patti (7), and leading actors like Mr. H. B. Irving (8).

Who could ask for more convincing and trustworthy witnesses? They are, moreover, particularly prone to catch Sore Throat because they are often in hot crowded places where the germs which cause Sore Throat abound.

Wulfin's Formant—The remedy which they and hundreds of their colleagues all rely upon—kills these germs in the mouth and throat. That is why it is prescribed by over 7,000 medical men for curing and preventing Sore Throat.

Send the coupon to-day for Free Copy of "Hints on Sore Throat."

Testimony that Tells.

Madame Adeline Patti, "The Queen of Song" (7), writes: "I have taken Wulfin's Formant Tablets for some time past and I find them very beneficial for the throat."

Madame Kirkby Lunn (4), the famous contralto, writes: "I think very highly of Wulfin's Formant Tablets, which I have found to be most valuable for the throat."

Mr. Ben Davies (5), the famous tenor, writes: "I find Wulfin's Formant excellent for the voice and most soothing to the throat. It is at the same time such a pleasant and effective disinfectant that I am never without a bottle."

Sir George Alexander (6) writes: "Formant has been my constant companion during the past winter and I have found it a dangerous enemy to the Influenza fiend."

Mr. H. B. Irving (8) writes: "On every occasion on which I have used Wulfin's Formant Tablets I have found them most beneficial."

Among other distinguished people who have vouched for Wulfin's Formant may be mentioned: The Hon. Mrs. Alfred Lyttelton, Lord Kingsale, Lord O'Hara, Viscountess Massereene and Ferrard, Maj.-Gen. Sir Ivor Herbert, St. C.B., M.P., etc., General Tiliard, Mr. C. C. Hutchinson, K.C., Mr. Bernard Partridge, Miss Lily Brayton (3), etc., etc.

Follow the example of these famous men and women. Buy a bottle of Formant to-day. It is obtainable at all Chemists, but remember to specify WULFIN'S Formant, because its great success has produced many worthless imitations.

M. POINCARÉ AS FRENCH PRESIDENT.

INSTALLATION CEREMONY.

PARIS, Feb. 13.

As already briefly telegraphed, all the good city of Paris made high holiday this afternoon in honour of the new President of the Republic. After two o'clock M. Briand, the Premier, sought M. Poincaré at his private house, and, escorted by a regiment of Cuirassiers, the new President drove at a slow trot to the Elysée, the whole route being lined by a dense crowd, whilst every window and many roofs were utilised by sightseers. As usual, M. Lépine, the Prefect of Police, drove in a closed motor car in front of the escort. M. Poincaré and M. Briand rode alone in a handsome gold-tinted limousine.

On a salute of twenty-one cannon announcing their arrival, M. Fallières, with the whole Household, proceeded to the front porch to meet his successor, and shook hands warmly. The party then adjourned to the Salon des Ambassadeurs, which was filled with Ministers and senators and deputies, and here M. Fallières, in a short speech, declared his pleasure and his confidence in transmitting his powers to M. Poincaré, who replied in suitable terms, concluding by again shaking hands. The actual ceremony lasted, perhaps, ten minutes, after which the President and ex-President retired for a short while to a private apartment.

PRELUD WITH FLOWERS.

In spite of the cold a large crowd patiently waited outside the Elysée until quarter to four, when M. Fallières and President Poincaré took their seats in the gala landau, and amidst deafening cheers and a shower of flower droves to the Hotel de Ville. The Terrasse terrace at the corner of the Place de la Concorde was decorated with a perfect forest of flags belonging to the innumerable musical bands there stationed, and the Rue de Rivoli was beautifully decorated with many-coloured flags and festoons of blossoms. A couple of hours before the time fixed for the reception the Hotel de Ville was crammed with guests, at least 6000 being invited by the municipality.

In the Salle des Fêtes all the high functionaries of the Senate, the Chamber, the municipality, and the Prefecture were assembled, and as the Presidential cortège reached the broad square in front of the Hotel de Ville the drums rolled; the trumpets blared, and the military bands struck up the "Marseillaise." The sight at this moment was very impressive, both inside and outside the Hotel de Ville, but interest soon centred entirely within the walls, where M. Galli offered a welcome to France's newly chosen governor in the name of the Paris Municipality, and M. Delaunay, Prefect of the Seine, did the same for the City of Paris.

AT THE HOTEL DE VILLE.

M. Poincaré in a clear, ringing voice, replied to both in one speech, declaring that he experienced genuine emotion at leaving the heart of Paris beating by his side at the moment when called to the highest office of his country. There were no other speeches, and an illuminated parchment record of the reception was duly signed in turn by M. Poincaré, M. Fallières, and M. Loubet, who shared the honours with his two successors. The Presidential party then strolled through the reception-rooms, returning finally to the Salle des Fêtes, where the "Marseillaise," played by the band of the Garde and sung by choruses of the Opera, the Opera Comique, and the Conservatoire, again saluted them, accompanied by prolonged cheering from all present.

After the "Marseillaise" followed the "Marche Lorraine" and the "Marche Bretonne" of Saint-Benoît, and then the cortège moved slowly through the suite of rooms to uninterrupted cries of "Vive Poincaré!" "Vive la République!" "Vive la Lorraine!" All the while the band was playing, where M. Galli proposed the toast of M. Poincaré, coupling with the name "the continuous activity of all French energy for the glory, grandeur, and wealth of the country." In answer to another speech by Delaunay, of various societies, M. Poincaré again very neatly and modestly accepted his high position, and the responsibility of his new position.

BRIDE MOBBED BY WOMEN.

Richelieu Wedding Scenes.

A mob of several thousand women besieged the Catholic Cathedral at Baltimore recently at the wedding of the Duc de Richelieu, the present head of the illustrious French family, and a descendant of the sister of Cardinal Richelieu, with the whole Household, proceeded to the front porch to meet his successor, and shook hands warmly. The party then adjourned to the Salon des Ambassadeurs, which was filled with Ministers and senators and deputies, and here M. Fallières, in a short speech, declared his pleasure and his confidence in transmitting his powers to M. Poincaré, who replied in suitable terms, concluding by again shaking hands. The actual ceremony lasted, perhaps, ten minutes, after which the President and ex-President retired for a short while to a private apartment.

The women, actuated by curiosity to see the bride, who is related to a number of American families of great social distinction, swarmed up the cathedral steps long before the wedding began, demanding admittance. The police forced them back, but the women returned, and many succeeded in entering the cathedral, where they took the seats reserved for the invited guests, who represented the leading society people of Baltimore, New York, Washington, and Pittsburgh.

During the ceremony the women stood on the seats, the better to view. The rest of the crowd waited outside, and when the bride with the Duc de Richelieu left the church the women in the street got beyond police control and bore down on the couple. The bride and groom were separated, while women fingered the bride's dress and passed comments on her appearance. The Duc de Richelieu finally forced his way back to the bride's side, but was unable to pass through the crowd until police succeeded in driving back the rabble sufficiently to keep a narrow lane clear to the waiting motor car.

The incident is unprecedented in America outside one or two titled weddings in New York a number of years ago. The marriage of the Duc de Richelieu is a love match, the bride not possessing any fortune. The ceremony was performed by Cardinal Gibbons, the bride having entered the Roman Catholic Church several days ago. Just before the ceremony began the negro nurse, aged 97 years, who attended the bride and the bride's mother as babies, was carried into the cathedral and given a seat of honour. The Duke and Duchess will maintain homes in New York and Paris. The Duke's mother is an American, the daughter of the late Mr. Michael Heine, the multi-millionaire New Orleans banker. After the death of the late Duc de Richelieu she married the Prince of Monaco, from whom she is now judicially separated. She is famous in the United States as being the only American-born woman who ever sat on a European throne.

Pratas is 170 miles east-south-east of the Colony—sufficiently far away that warning from there gives ample time to take shelter, and not so far that there is any reasonable prospect of a typhoon materially changing its course between there and here. It will be remembered that a few years ago the island was brought into prominence by the settlement there of Japanese with the view of exploiting its resources in phosphate, this raised the point of ownership, which was eventually settled in favour of China, whose Government then undertook to establish a wireless station there. China, however, engrossed in the reorganisation of her internal affairs, has, it appears, taken no practical steps towards the establishment of this station, and it is now a question whether it would not be in the interest of the Colony if our Government were to come to some arrangement with the Chinese Authorities whereby the work might be promptly taken in hand. We are spending $2,300,000 on the new typhoon shelter and its value will be seriously discounted if adequate typhoon warnings cannot be provided. The cost of a wireless station would be small compared with what we are spending on the breakwater. It will not do to "spoil the ship for a ha'porth of tar."

A PEST TO SHIPPING.

Lance-Sergeant Wills brought before Capt. Basil Taylor, R.N., at the Marine Court this morning a Chinese who was found by him yesterday on board the s.s. Dilwaga. He was charged with being on board the boat without permission. There was no doubt, said Sergeant Wills, that the prisoner was one of a gang of professional gamblers who worked the Apoor, Jardine and China Coast steamers, besides committing thefts from passengers. In the present case Sergeant Wills found the prisoner on the after-deck surrounded by about thirty Chinese, defendants being in the middle with a complete gambling paraphernalia laid out on the deck. He had a handful of silver and copper coins. Only an hour or two before a robbery was reported from the same ship, a doctor's trunk having been stolen. The police were consequently receiving complaints of these unwelcome visitors on ships—especially emigrant ships.

ORGAN RECITAL AT THE CATHEDRAL.

A very fine organ recital was given in the Cathedral yesterday evening by Mr. Deiman Fuller, F.R.C.O., L.R.A.M., the music selected by the organist being particularly appropriate to Easter week. When the services commenced at half-past five there was a very small attendance, but from that time until six o'clock there was a constant stream of late-comers, who generally contented to mar the enjoyment of those who had taken the trouble to come in time. No more people came to the Cathedral after six, but some began to leave, and even in the middle of the last item on the programme, two or three people became so restless that they could not wait five minutes for the end of the item. People who come late should have some consideration for those who do not, for surely they do not need telling that it would be much more to their credit if they waited at the door, and made their entry between the items on the programme.

The first piece that Mr. Fuller played was Wagner's beautiful Good Friday music. Wagner put so much expression into this. Painful music that it would seem to speak more solemnly, almost, than words could tell. This, and the last item on the programme, which was B. Woodcock's "Requiem Aeternam" were certainly the best items that Mr. Fuller played. He gave a masterly interpretation of the latter and produced an effect resembling the singing of a weeper hymn with choral responses. The organist gave a bright rendering of Schumann's "Minuet and Trio," whilst he also achieved good results in his performance of Aramov's "Berceuse," and Cyril Scott's "Vespers," the two latter being short, but quiet and pretty. Mrs. Gask sung Bach-Gounod's "Meditation" (Ave Maria) which by the way, was the first time we had heard it sung in a Protestant church, and "Sanctus Fœtis" from Wagner's "Dream of Geroldus."

Selections from "The Messiah" will be sung in the Cathedral on Good Friday at 9.15 p.m.

MILLION DOLLAR FORGERY.

Further Evidence.

The trial of seven Japanese on charges of conspiracy and forgery in connection with the discovery by the police of forged Kwangtung Government notes of the face value of one million dollars reached the third day of hearing this morning before the Chief Justice and a special jury.

The interest which has been taken in the case throughout the proceedings by the Chinese was fully maintained there being a large attendance in Court.

The manager of the Tokyo Hotel stated that a Chinese who represented himself to be the manager of a printing press, called at the hotel and asked to see the prisoners, who were staying there. He identified the man by a photograph shown to him in Court. He was subsequently asked by one of the prisoners to move a trunk which they had in their room. As it was very heavy he asked what it contained and was told its contents were imaginary. When he suggested the employment of coolies for the removal of the trunk he was told not to mind.

The Tokyo Hotel manager said he went on board the Kimmo Maru on her arrival and saw four of the prisoners on board. Two divers employed by the Hongkong and Whampoa Dock Company spoke to recovering certain baskets of notes and loose bank-notes from the bottom of the Harbour near where the Aya Maru was moored.

Mr. King and the prosecution.

Mr. T. H. King, Assistant Superintendent of Police, said he was present at the diving operations and the things were handed to him as they were recovered. A large Japanese basket which was brought up was full of notes.

Mr. Sharpe, K.C., who was conducting the examination-in-chief of the witnesses mentioned that the basket, which was in Court, contained bogus notes of the value of $148,000.

Mr. King was subjected to a somewhat lengthy cross-examination by Mr. F. C. Jenkins, one of the counsel for the defence, who wish to prove that the actual procurer is the Canton Government and not the Crown. In the course of it he stated that he received information of this case from the Commissioner of Police at Canton, Mr. Chan King Wah. He frequently came to the Colony, and witness knew him well. He knew Wong, the police agent, and was aware of the fact that he was bringing on December 20, a big sum of money to Hongkong to try to bring off a deal in forged notes.

Mr. Jenkins: He is in point of fact came down and got the Hongkong Police to arrest those men?—We were going to make arrests when the deal took place.

Do you know that the Commissioner of Finance of Canton was present during the proceedings before the magistrate?—I saw him present part of the time. He was interested in the case.

You know at that time, didn't you that the Chinese Government was interested in the prosecution?—What do you mean by interested? He came down to hear the case.

Have you ever heard it suggested that the prosecution is actually the prosecution of the Chinese Government?—I only heard Mr. Harris suggest it in the Police Court.

AN ALTERED CHARGE.

Do you know that the charge in the Police Court was a charge of conspiracy to defraud the Military Government of Canton?—I think that was so.

And Mr. Bethfolds was the complainant?—Yes. That was the second charge.

And you know now that the conspiracy charge is to defraud the public?—I had not noticed the alteration.

You can take it from me that the charge has been altered. You cannot give any reason why the charge should be altered?—I cannot give any reason.

Mr. Jenkins was putting a number of questions to Mr. King concerning the alteration of the charge. Mr. F. B. L. Bowley, the counsel for the defence, was also present. He suggested that the name of the Court was being wasted.

Cross-examined by Mr. Mesajins the witness said she could not say if the man who remained in the room was watching or not. The third man said he did not wish to go out as he had a cold and he told others to see the man in the room. The first prisoner, it was suggested, in informant of the fact that the man in the room was watching them. A Chinese girl who passed the prisoners from the hotel to the court was also present. The witness said she did not see the man in the room. He did not know them.

sonors said the baskets contained old photographs which he had intended to sell as now ones, but as it was known that they were old he could not sell them and to save paying duty on them, he took them from the steamer, but to take them into a sampan; then he could do what he liked with them.

The hearing was proceeding when we went to press.

KIDNAPPER OR SHIP?

A Peculiar Point.

An adjourned case, in which two women are charged with kidnapping, was called on before Mr. Melbourne at the Magistrate's this afternoon.

Mr. C. F. Mason, of Messrs. Wilkinson and Grist, defended.

Mr. Mason said he thought there must be a misprint in his copy of the charge. According to his copy his client was charged with "being a ship not exceeding sixty tons burden and carrying more passengers." (Laughter.)

Mr. Melbourne: I thought it was kidnapping.

Mr. Mason: The charge is kidnapping, but this is relating to a colonial ship. It is Section 3 of Ordinance 5 of 1905.

Inspector Mortimer O'Sullivan said it should be Section 3 of Ordinance 6 of 1905. It was so in the original charge sheet. He added that he had been unable to get the girl from the country whom it was alleged had been kidnapped.

Mr. Mason then asked that the case be dismissed. His clients had been in custody for a fortnight. Surely it was against all principles of British justice that people should be kept in prison until a charge could be formulated against them.

Inspector O'Sullivan said the charge was formulated.

Mr. Mason: But you cannot prove it. There have been two ramrands already. To-day was fixed, and it is the business of the prosecution to go on. There is no one here to bring the charge.

Mr. Melbourne: Is there any guarantee that the police can get the girl here?

Inspector O'Sullivan: I cannot give a guarantee.

Mr. Mason said his clients could not get any compensation for being detained. It was explained that the defendants had been taken to the girl and had got away and also had been married. Mr. Mason said that she was unhappy at home, and wanted to leave. She had been happily, and was living in China. All the witnesses lived in the country. The girl left of her own accord because she was ill-treated in the house.

Mr. Melbourne in discharging the defendants, said he noticed that the offence was supposed to have been committed so far back as February 2nd, 1913.

SUFFRAGETTE FANATICS.

DISCUSSION IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

DEPORTATION SUGGESTED.

LONDON, March 19.

Mr. Harold Smith moved the resolution of the Home Office vote in view of "Mr. McKenna's ineptitude in dealing with Suffragette outrages." Matters, he said, were drifting into mob law.

Lord Robert Cecil said that unless a solution was found, something approaching "lynch-law" was inevitable. Forcible feeding of fanatics were both disgusting and futile. Special punishment was required, and he suggested deportation. If the Government was unable to solve the difficulty they must resign.

Mr. McKenna denied that the law had broken down. Of 66 Suffragette prisoners since 1st January, 37 had already served their sentences in the normal course, and 21 were still in prison. Only eight were suffering from diseases preventing forcible feeding, and had consequently been released. The House must consider the fanatical character of the women, who did their utmost to conceal their ailments from the doctor. Some pretended to take food but surreptitiously starved, hoping to die in prison. One lay on her bed without clothes during the whole of a cold night in the hope of catching a death cold. Some refused water as well as food. They could only deal with the situation by taking each case as it arose, exercising patience, humanity and forbearance. Window-breaking and obstinacy were insufficient reasons for allowing prisoners to die. If one were allowed to die, scores would follow. These fanatics no more feared death than the savage followers of the Mahdi. He absolutely denied the statement of Sir Victor Horsley. He (Mr. McKenna) feared that the House would not give the power to deport, but he proposed when business allowed, to ask power to license out similar to prisoners sentenced to penal servitude. He believed this would enable them to deal effectively, even with the most troublesome cases.

THE DOCTORS' STATEMENT.

A letter signed by Sir Victor Horsley and two other doctors states that Miss Lenton was released because she was in imminent danger of death through the tube used during forcible feeding being introduced to the trachea, whereby food entered the lung. The letter declares that Mr. McKenna's denial that Miss Lenton was nearly killed by forcible feeding is worthless.

THE PRINCE OF WALES.

LONDON, March 18.

The Prince of Wales left for Germany on Monday evening.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

CELEBRATIONS IN LONDON.

LONDON, March 18.

St. Patrick's Day was celebrated on Monday with the customary display of shamrocks, the presentation of Queen Alexandra's Shamrocks to the Irish Guards, and processions and banquets in Ireland.

$10,000 GIFT FOR IRISH HOME RULE.

Mr. W. Redmond, at a banquet in the Hotel Cecil, announced the gift of $10,000 from America. He quoted the speech of Mr. Bryan at New York that humanity owed a debt to Ireland for ending hereditary rule in the British Empire.

WAITERS' THREAT TO STRIKE.

As the banquet was beginning, the kitchen staff, responding to the cry of "Down dishes," struck work, but the management promptly conceded them their terms, enabling the banquet to continue.

The Union of Restaurant and Hotel Workers has recently organised sixteen successful strikes in London by similar tactics with the object of removing grievances under the Shop Hours Act.

SHAMROCKS FOR ENTOMBED MINERS.

Shamrocks were sent down the bore hole to two Irish miners who have been entombed for five days in a flooded mine in Cumberland.

KING OF GREECE ASSASSINATED.

SHOT AT SALONIKA.

LONDON, March 19.

A telegram from Salonika states that the King of Greece was assassinated yesterday afternoon.

SHOT FROM BEHIND.

The King was walking in the street when he was shot from behind by two men.

One of the men is named Schinas, and is stated to be deranged. His Majesty died in half an hour.

King George learned of the assassination late last night, when it was further stated that the assassin had been only two yards away from his victim.

Queen Alexandra (sister to the unfortunate King) was not informed of the tragedy until it had been officially confirmed. Her Majesty was profoundly shocked with grief.

The assassin, Schinas, who is forty years old, refused to explain his motive. When asked if he had any pity for his country, he replied that he was a socialist. His demeanour was quite impassive.

ASSASSIN ARRESTED.

A later telegram states that the murderer is a Greek degenerate named Aleko Schinas. He used a pistol loaded with seven slugs. He was immediately arrested.

[Note:—The late King, Prince William George, second son of the late King (Christian IX. of Denmark, ascended the Greek throne in 1893, the first of a new dynasty following the Revolution of 1892. His Majesty was born at Copenhagen in 1845, was married to Grand Duchess Olga, eldest daughter of the Grand Duke Constantine of Russia. The Crown Prince, who was born in 1898, has been taking an active part in the War.]

PREMIER AND TRADE UNIONISTS.

LONDON, March 18.

Mr. Asquith, replying to a deputation from the Trade Union Congress, declined to commit the Government to the principle of nationalisation of mines and railways, with regard to the value of which he was not convinced.

MAGISTRATES AND HOME SECRETARY.

LONDON, March 18.

The correspondence between the Richmond Magistrates and Mr. McKenna has been published. The former protested against the release from prison of Miss Lenton, the Suffragette, who afterwards disappeared. Mr. McKenna replied that it was his paramount duty to save life.

THE LIVINGSTONE CENTENARY.

LONDON, March 18.

Lord Curzon, presiding at a meeting of the Royal Geographical Society on the occasion of the David Livingstone Centenary, eloquently eulogised the famous explorer.

Sir Harry Johnston, in a lecture, described Livingstone as the pioneer of the Cape to Cairo ideal.

AN AUSTRALIAN TRADE DISPUTE.

LONDON, March 18.

A message from Sydney states that 4,000 South Coast colliers have struck work, alleging victimisation of a union official.

KENDAL BY-ELECTION.

LONDON, March 18.

Mr. Somerville, the Liberal candidate, in a final appeal to the constituency, says: "The country regards this election as turning on the vital question of compulsory military service advocated by Colonel Weston."

UNIONISTS CONFIDENT.

LATER.

In sunshine and amidst much excitement, polling is taking place at Kendal, and the supporters of Colonel Weston, the Unionist candidate, are confident of victory.

UNITED STATES TARIFF CHANGES.

LONDON, March 19.

A telegram received from Reuter's correspondent at Washington states that the Democratic Committee of Ways and Means proposes a tariff revision substantially re-affirming most of the rates of the Democratic Bill last Session which were vetoed by President Taft, and which contemplated reductions in rates of cheap grades of soap, soap-oils, cheap pottery, earthenware, etc., now assessed at 55 per cent. to 60 per cent. Substantial reductions will be made in the cheaper grades of cotton goods and woolsens, and there will be a retention of most of the rates for fax, hemp, jute, chemicals, paints and oils. Approximately the same rates will be charged for silks. There will be a re-affirmation of the iron and steel schedules, and a free-listing of rough-dressed lumber, sugar, raw cotton, wood pulp, and printing paper.

FRENCH CABINET RESIGNS.

LONDON, March 19.

A telegram from Paris states that the French Cabinet has resigned, the Government having been defeated in the debate on the Electoral Reform Bill.

TURCO-BALKAN WAR.

LATEST REGARDING MEDIATION.

LONDON, March 18.

It is reported from Vienna that a British naval officer in the Turkish service is responsible for the raid of the Hamidieh in the Adriatic.

POWERS AND PEACE.

The Powers in their reply to the Allies agree to mediate. They propose that the frontier should end at Midia instead of Rodosto and Midia, and they refuse to entertain the idea of an indemnity. They state that the question of the Aegean Islands and Albania are in the hands of the Powers.

A RUMOUR DENIED.

A message from Athens states that the rumours of Greco-Servian and Greco-Turkish ententes are semi-officially denied.

BOMBARDMENT OF SKUTARI.

Ten thousand Servians with 40 guns arrived at Skutari and combined with the Montenegrins in resuming the bombardment on Saturday.

It is reported from Athens that the Greeks occupied Klissura after a severe fight, losing 13 killed and 40 wounded. The Turkish casualties were heavy.

THE EPIRUS.

A telegram from Athens states that the Greeks Army announces the complete occupation of the Epirus, the Turk having fled to Albania.

BULGARIA AND THE POWERS' PROPOSALS.

The Bulgarian Quarters regard the Powers' proposals as almost impossible to consider, as the Rodosto and Midia line is urgently necessary both from trade and military points of view. The new boundary would give Turkey the battlefields of Chiorli and neighbourhood, where so much Bulgarian blood and treasure have been spent. It would also be a menace to Adrianople and Dedeagatch railway, which was Bulgaria's only means of access to the Aegean. The Bulgarians believe that the purely strategical objections to Rodosto and Midia could be overcome if Bulgaria agreed not to maintain a fleet in the Sea of Marmora.

THE SIX POWERS' LOAN.

LONDON, March 18.

Replying in the House of Commons to Sir J. D. Bess, Mr. Asquith said the Loan to China would be made on certain specific objects, not including assistance for Chinese forces threatening Tibet.

BUB IT IN.

A good many people think rheumatism can not be cured without taking nauseous medicine. Chamberlain's Pain-Balm managed thoroughly into the skin has cured far more instances than any internal remedy in existence and gives relief quicker. For sale by all Chemists and Druggists.

ALLEGED UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF OPIUM.

At the Magistrate's Court before Mr. Melbourne a Chinese named Chan Cheong was charged on remand with having in his possession 173 lbs. of prepared opium on board the ship "Minnocence," the opium not being stamped on the manifest of the ship at Hong Kong on Feb. 20th.

Mr. P. W. Hodgson, Assistant Crown Solicitor, appeared to prosecute, and Mr. Goldring defended.

The defendant was sworn, and said that he was an accountant at a Chinese gentlemen's club at 173 Des Voeux Road West. He was given some opium and a certificate by a man named Chan Chai to take to Yau-mat. Before going, he was told that the wife of a friend on the Minnocence was ill, and he was asked to bring the friend back. Witness stood at the entrance to the gangway and shouted for the friend, but a watchman came and asked what he had in his bag. Witness replied that he had got opium. He was then arrested. All the opium was in his bag with the exception of eleven tins which were found in his waist.

WAR OFFICE DEFRAUDED.

A strange case of fraud on the War Office is revealed in the Report of the Comptroller and Auditor-General on the Army Appropriation Account for 1911-12.

Two pensions granted in 1814 were paid for nearly 100 years, and no suspicion was raised till 1908, when, "in view of the advanced age of the pensioners," the cases were reported for special investigation. The result was the discovery that the pensioners had been impersonated for many years.

The Army funds, states the report, were defrauded of about £450.

It is explained that in 1814 a compassionate allowance of £7 per annum, afterwards increased to £20, was awarded to each of the eight children of an ensign in the 87th Foot. The allowances were issued upon the production of proper forms of declaration and receipt duly attested by notaries public in the United States, and it was not until the special inquiries were made that it was discovered that one of the pensioners died about 1875 and the other about 1890.

Steps to be taken to secure better documentary evidence of identity and to prevent personation of pensioners are now under consideration.

PROVISION FOR POLAR VICTIMS' RELATIVES.

The decision of the Government in regard to the assistance to be rendered to the dependants of the victims of the South Pole disaster is officially announced in the following communication issued by the Lord Mayor:

The Lord Mayor has been informed by the Prime Minister that the Government propose to provide out of national funds for all relatives dependent on Captain Scott and his four companions, so as to secure that they shall be in as good a pecuniary position as they would have been had the disaster not taken place.

Captain Scott was promoted to the rank of captain on September 10, 1904. As he was one of the first eighty captains his yearly pay would be £260 5s.

In addition he would receive when in command of a first-class battleship or cruiser an extra sum of £238 10s. a year. His total pay would therefore be £290 15s. and this is probably the sum Mrs. Scott will receive.

Captain Oates, of the Inniskilling Dragoons, would receive £237 5s. a year, and Petty Officer Evans about £24 and allowances.

£30,000 SUBSIDISED.

The total of the combined funds for the various objects associated with the disaster to Captain Scott and his companions now amounts to nearly £30,000, and money continues to come in.

20,000,000 STAMPS DESTROYED.

REMARKABLE ERROR IN PANAMA CANAL ISSUE.

Perhaps the most colossal error that has ever occurred in the history of postage stamps has just happened in the United States," writes Mr. W. S. Lincoln. "The Panama Canal commemorates the opening of the Panama Canal a new series of four values was prepared, namely:—1c. green, portrait of Balboa; 2c. blue, view of the Panama locks in the new canal; 3c. blue, view of the Golden Gate; 4c. orange, picture depicting the discovery of San Francisco Bay.

The 1c. and 10c. stamps appeared, and it was then a view of San Pedro Miguel locks. Instead of the Gates locks, though the stamp was inscribed with the latter name. The Government immediately withdrew the whole series, and issued a new set of four stamps, and destroyed the old ones. The new stamps are now being issued, and the old ones are being destroyed.
